Marshals of '52

For the '52 graduating exercises Pat Chriscoe will serve as chief marshal; Clara Sheffield, as assistant chief. Other marshals are Marcia Black from the eleventh grade; Janet Frye and Barbara Black from the tenth grade; Eloise Garner and Betty Ruth Robertson from the ninth grade.

These marshals were chosen on the basis of the grades they made during the past school term. Congratulations are due these seven girls for their good work during the '51-'52 school year.

LEWIS S. CANNON

We, the members of the Beta Club, are happy to dedicate this issue of "The Sandspur" to our friend and superintendent, Mr. Lewis S. Cannon, who by his example and practices has improved the standards of our school in every way. In the years to come we shall remember him with affection and with gratitude for the many things he has done to benefit our school and community.

Senior Gift

Next year a new course will be offered to the students of P. H. S. and to the residents of Pinehurst. This course, ceramics, will deal with the study and making of pottery. At present the making of pottery is an important but not widely known industry of N. C. By introducing it here in Pinehurst it may become a profitable hobby for some of us.

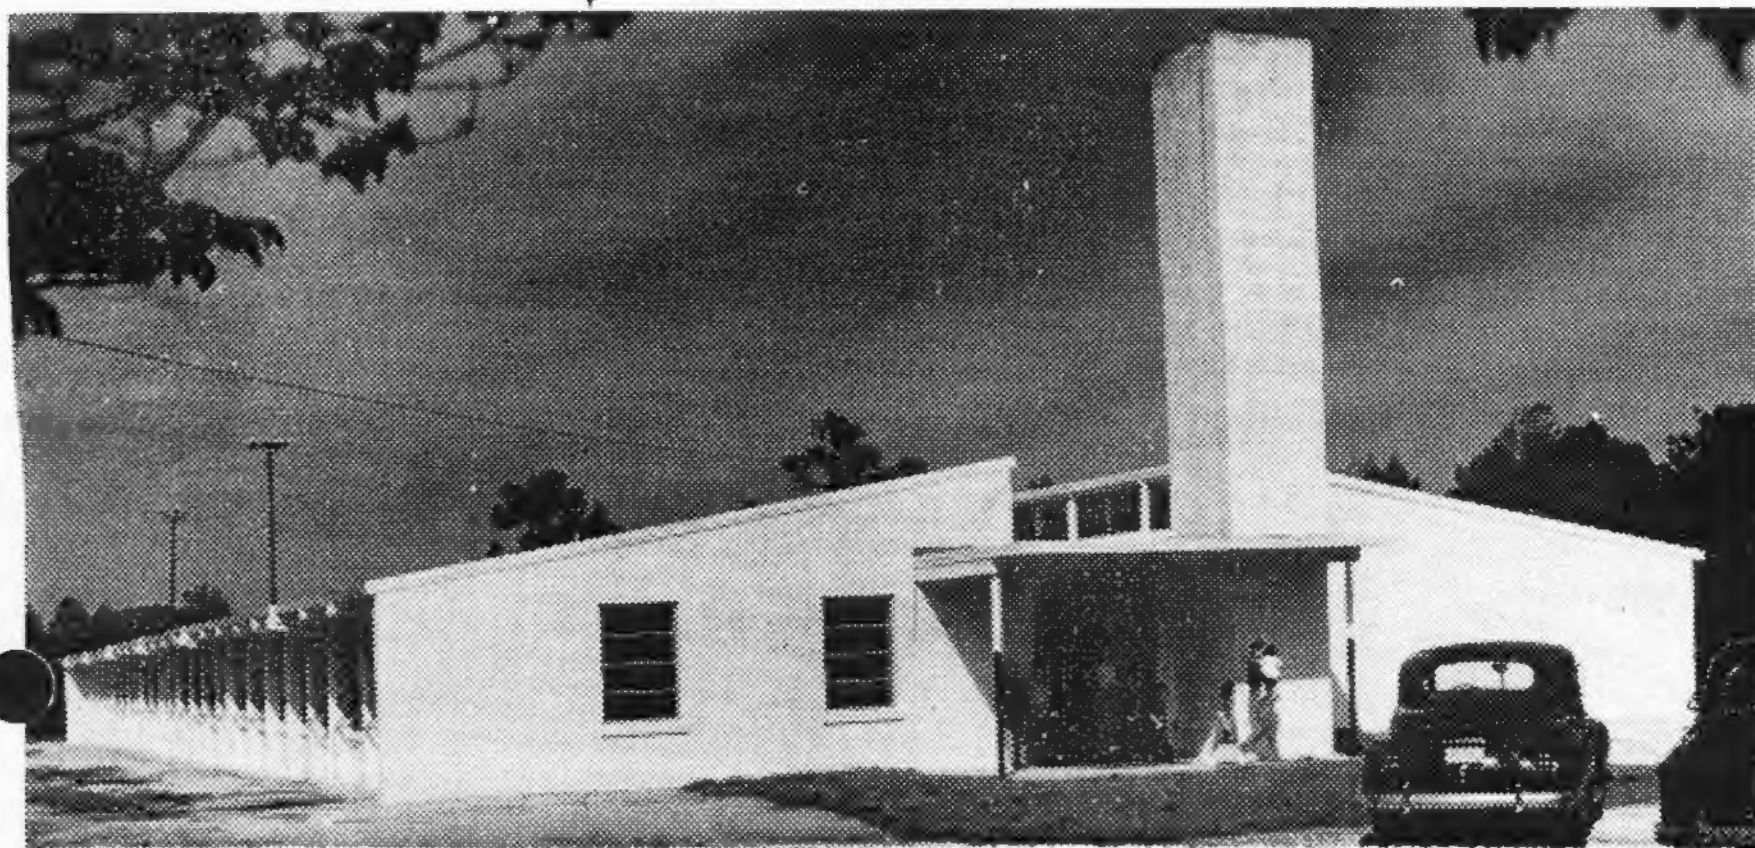

One part of the equipment necessary for a course in ceramics is an oven for baking the pottery.

The senior class of 1952 is giving this oven to the school as their parting gift. It is the wish of the class that many derive pleasure and profit from this gift.

American Legion Awards

The American Legion awards for good citizenship this year go to Pat Chriscoe and Fred Garrison, juniors who have done outstanding work all through school. Both are at present members of the Beta Club, Fred being the first boy to qualify for membership since the Club was organized four years ago.

In addition to making a fine scholastic record, Pat and Fred are always ready and willing to help in any undertaking that will benefit their school and classmates. Both were contenders for the Lions' Club medal given for the best talk on Communism. Pat won first place; Fred, second.

Au Revoir

Good-bye to the teachers, with ideas so new!
 They explained things and explained things
 'Till their faces were blue!!
 Farewell to Mr. Cannon, let's give him due praise,
 For the new buildings on which we now gaze.
 So long to the athletics in which we participated.
 Au revoir to the long exams with dread awaited.
 Good-bye to the halls, through which we walked.
 Farewell to the study halls, in which we talked.
 So long to our text books, so faithfully carried.
 Au revoir to the classrooms in which we tarried.
 Good-bye to school lunches which oft we did eat.
 Farewell to class trips and tired aching feet.
 So long to term papers we hurriedly wrote.
 Au revoir to the boys, trying to get teacher's goat!
 Good-bye to class pranks which filled teachers with rage.
 Farewell to our typewriters, eccentric with age.
 So long to the buses which daily we rode.
 Au revoir to our waiting to catch the last load.
 Good-bye to school days, now viewed with delight.
 Hello to the future, so shining and bright!

DR. JAMES HENRY PHILLIPS

Dr. James Henry Phillips, Assistant Professor of Biblical Literature and Chaplain to Duke University, will preach the commencement sermon for Pinehurst High School on Sunday evening, May 25, at eight o'clock in the Community Church. His topic will be "What Do You Own?"

Dr. Phillips, a native North Carolinian, received his degree from Duke Divinity School in 1935; in 1936 he graduated from Yale Divinity School. He has served pastorates in Waterbury, Conn. and in Washington, D. C. In 1951, after teaching six years at Duke, he was appointed Chaplain. He was Chaplain in the Second Air Force, AAF, from 1943 to 1945.

Alma Mater

On the city's eastern border
 Reared against the sky
 Proudly stands our Alma Mater
 As the years go by.
 Forward ever be our watchword!
 Conquer and prevail!
 Hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
 Pinehurst High, all hail!
 Cherished by our sons and daughters
 Mem'ries sweet shall throng,
 Gathered 'round our Alma Mater
 As we sing thy song.

Commencement Speaker

DR. C. SYLVESTER GREEN

The commencement speaker this year is Dr. C. Sylvester Green, Executive Vice-President of the recently created Medical Foundation of North Carolina, Inc. A native of Kentucky, Dr. Green has spent most of his life in North Carolina. After graduating from Wake Forest College, he served as pastor of Watts Street Baptist Church in Durham; six years later he went to Richmond, Va. as pastor of Grove Avenue Baptist Church. From 1936 to 1943 he was president of Coker College, Hartsville, S. C.

Dr. Green holds degrees from Wake Forest College, Duke University, Washington and Lee University, and the University of South Carolina. He is the author of several books, and his articles have been published in current periodicals.

Dr. Green will speak to the graduating class Wednesday evening, May 28, at eight o'clock in the Community Church.

Tufts Loyalty Awards

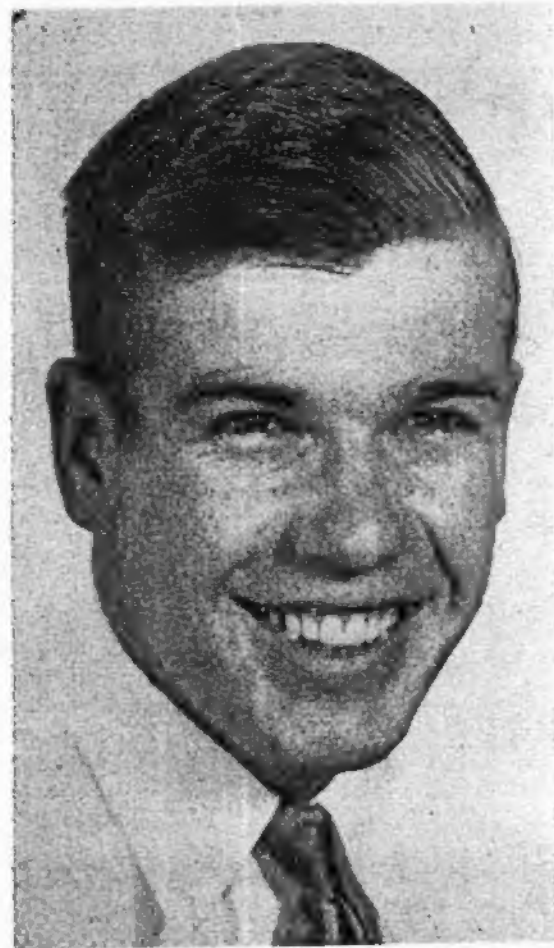

BARBARA JEAN COLE

The family of the late Leonard Tufts presents each year the Tufts Loyalty Award, a memorial, to the boy and girl in the upper classes of Pinehurst High School who have been most loyal to their school and its standards. This year the award goes to Barbara Jean Cole of the senior class and to Harold Clayton of the junior class.

Barbara Jean, daughter of Mrs. Dan Horner, completes her twelfth year of school in Pinehurst. Barbara Jean has been a member of the Beta Club in her junior and senior years. During her first two years in high school she was a member of the glee club. In her freshman year she was an active member of the F. H. A and attended the convention in Raleigh. She has served as marshal three times, and in her junior year she was chief-marshal.

Harold Clayton was born in Jackson Springs, November 20, 1934. He joined the present junior class sometime before Christmas, in the eighth grade. Harold has held various class offices. He is an outstanding player on the baseball team. His happy disposition, his courtesy, and his fine character have won for him a warm place in the hearts of his teachers and fellow students.

Bouquets!

There are always people in school each year who do more than is required of them—they go the "second mile". Mr. Herschell is one of these. On many occasions he has driven the bus to take us on interesting trips. A person of calmness, good judgment, and dignity, he inspires confidence in the group with him.

Mrs. McCaskill is another to whom we feel indebted. No one worked harder than she to finance the wonderful trip to Charleston. At every football and basketball game, she arranged for and managed the sale of drinks and eats. Her careful planning and hard work did much to make our Halloween Carnival a success. She was fun on the trips we had, yet we knew she stood for only the finest conduct at all times.

Mr. Dobbs, who is anesthetist at the Moore County Hospital, gave hours of his time helping Mr. Bowles coach both basketball and football teams. We appreciate his help in giving us a good year in sports.

To Miss Currie and to Miss Wilson are due appreciation for chaperoning the girls' basketball team on trips out of Pinehurst.

Girls' Basketball Team

During the past brilliant season, the strong sextet of Pinehurst Hi made a remarkably fine record by defeating many of Moore County's high ranking teams. Defeated by the strong Biscoe, Aberdeen, Farmlife, and Southern Pines teams, the girls went down fighting. At the end of the season our record stood: one game tied; fourteen games won; seven games lost. The girls racked up 1097 points against their opponents' 915, averaging 49.9 points per game.

High scorers for the season were Marcia Black, 455; Betty Boggs, 367; Annie Mae Morgan, 228; Florene Yarborough, 25; Martha Moon, 19; and Eloise Garner, 4. The spotlight is turned on the hard fighting ninth and tenth grade girls who next year will be among the best. They are Betty Ann Wiseman, Janet Frye, and Margaret Green.

Recognition is given especially to the hard-fighting guards. Their fast, hard playing brought admiration from all the spectators. They are Jeri Yarborough, Frances Oldham, Gail Hobson, Jean Robertson, Julie McCaskill, Betty Robertson, Geneva Roberts, Esther Talbert, Virginia Smith, and Harriet Wilkes.

Graduating this year are Jeri Yarborough and Betty Boggs. Their fine playing will be missed on the court next year.

Students Visit Charleston

Juniors and Seniors of Pinehurst High School visited one of the country's most historic cities, Charleston, S. C. for their annual tour this year. They saw the famous Cypress Gardens, Fort Moultrie, the naval base, art galleries and churches, and boated out to Fort Sumter. They, of course, had their picture taken. Here they are, with all present except Anne Cole, Betty Boggs, Carolyn Smith and Betty Black McKenzie:

JUNIORS and SENIORS SEE CHARLESTON

In the evening of Saturday, April 5, the familiar maroon and gold activity bus cruised into the yard of Pinehurst High School. It was filled with tired, happy, juniors, seniors, and chaperones. This brought to a close their tour of beautiful and historic old Charleston and its surrounding points of interest.

The trip began early Thursday morning, April 3, when the group left Pinehurst High School. It was an excited group, all dressed in their latest spring finery and feeling very important as they bade farewell to underclassmen, teachers, and parents.

A few hours later the bus came to a stop at a restaurant in Kingstree, S. C., where the students bought refreshments and stretched their limbs. This was followed by a short street-entertainment, a shoeshine boy singing "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy." Soon they were once more on their way—next stop Charleston!

On their arrival in Charleston in the early afternoon, they went to the neat and attractive John C. Calhoun Motel. Soon they were unpacked and ready to board the bus once again, this time for a sight-seeing tour of the city. Accompanied by an interesting guide, they saw many beautiful old buildings; the Dock Street Theatre, oldest theatre in the United States; the Citadel, military college of the South; the harbor; and the Cooper River Bridge. By this time they were ready to return to Henry's, where they enjoyed a delicious sea food dinner. After dinner everyone was free for an evening of entertainment of his own choice.

Friday morning the Tar Heels visited the beautiful Magnolia Gardens. The gardens were at their best and were a mass of color heard of only in fairy tales. Returning to the city, they had lunch at the Francis Marion Hotel and were then ready for the boat ride out to Fort Sumter. There they were met by a guide who explained the fort and its significance. Soon after their return to the city a group picture was made. This was followed by a visit to the Art Museum and later on by an enjoyable dinner at Raly's Cafeteria. Once more the sight-seers were free to spend the evening as they wished.

Saturday morning the group boarded the bus again and visited the Isle of Palms. There, the dignified juniors and seniors became "children" again and enjoyed the rides on such thrillers as the Ferris wheel and hobby horses! When they returned to the motel, it was time to pack for the trip home.

As the time drew near to leave the lovely old city, the Pinehursters, loaded with gifts and souvenirs for the homefolk, returned to their bus.

On their way out of Charleston they stopped at the harbor to visit a banana boat. They were allowed on board and the visit proved very interesting. Some of the boys saw the ill-fated Hobson, which was in port undergoing repairs. A beauty spot visited on the return trip was the Cypress Gardens about twenty miles from Charleston. The boat ride through these beautiful gardens was a unique experience, and there was an almost constant "click" of cameras.

LAST WILL and TESTAMENT

We, the seniors of Pinehurst High School, being of sound mind and realizing that the number of our school days is limited, do, in this year 1952, hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament:

Article I

To Mr. Cannon, we leave our sincere appreciation for his guidance throughout our high school years.

Article II

To our teachers, we bequeath our deep gratitude for their interest and effort in our behalf.

Article III

To Pinehurst High, we leave our loyalty, which will remain throughout the years to come.

Article IV

To the junior class, we leave our books with a hope that they will prove more interesting to them than they did to us.

Article V

To the freshman and sophomores, we bequeath our ability to please the teachers in our grades as well as in our behavior.

Article VI

The individual members of the senior class wish to leave the following possessions to these people:

1. To Miss Morris, Tom Darst wishes to leave a few inches of his height so that she may be able to reach the top of the blackboard during the next school term.

2. To Virginia Smith, Betty Jean Boggs leaves her basketball ability with a hope that it will win the Moore county championship for P. H. S. next year.

3. To those of you remaining at P. H. S., Jerry Cole leaves his deepest sympathy.

4. To Margaret Green, Jerolene Yarborough bequeaths her chewing gum and asks that she continue the tradition of chewing it through all classes.

5. To Barbara Black, Linda Whitesell leaves her shoes with the turned up toes. She wore them to Washington last year and hopes Barbara can use them next year.

6. To Frazer Smith, Frank

White leaves his famous football number "64" for use during the next four years.

7. To Donald Monroe, Gene McKenzie leaves his happy disposition with a warning never to use it during Miss Morris' English class.

8. To Barbara Faircloth, Polly Bosworth bequeaths her long list of boy friends, with the exception of David.

9. To Marica Black, Betty McKenzie leaves her cooking ability with only one remark—never be without a cook book.

10. To Junior Vest, Marshall Ballard gladly leaves his typewriter and along with it a dictionary to help him pronounce the words he must use.

11. To Charles Garrison, Ted Veno leaves his "way with the women." It has worked for Ted; so maybe it will do the same for Charles.

12. To Janet Frye, Barbara Jean Cole leaves her position as Art Editor on "The Sandspur". There will be a lot of headaches but aspirin will help.

13. To Jimmy McCaskill, Eddie Ray leaves his tardy excuses and hopes he won't have to stay in too many hours after school.

14. To Martha Moon, Shirley McKenzie leaves her quietness and hopes it will prove most helpful during the years to come.

15. To Monk Gilleland, Coy Frye leaves his remarkable ability in English grammar. Miss Morris thinks he does well "for a boy."

Glee Club

The glee club, composed of forty-four members, has had a very successful year. Under the direction of Miss Sara Wilson, the club gave its first concert at a meeting of the P. T. A. in March. Selections used on this program were "Surry with a Fringe on Top," "Stout-hearted Men," and "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee." Miss Harriet Wilkes was piano accompanist.

On April 12 the club traveled to Meredith College in Raleigh to participate in the district music contest. Our numbers were "Morning Now Beckons" and "In Silent Night." We later received a rating of 3, which was good.

The annual Picquet Cup Contest took place May 8 at the Pinehurst Country Club. Our glee club won first place for the fourth time, winning this year over Aberdeen, Southern Pines, Cameron, and Carthage. To our director, Miss Wilson, is largely due the credit for our success.

Football

The Pinehurst High football team opened the season this year with high hopes for the championship. With Mr. Bowles coaching them, they played seven games, winning five. Mr. Dobbs was a great help to Mr. Bowles in getting the team in top form.

In their first game they galloped through the Lilesville team and came out with a winning score of 34-14. West End was next in line, and our boys beat them 18-6. They proceeded on their victorious way, and taking Carthage in stride, gave them the licking of the season, 41-6. Aberdeen offered stiff resistance to the Maroon Rebels, but the Pinehurst team fought hard and lost by only two points. They lost again to Robbins in their next game, but with a brilliant burst of speed drove through Southern Pines 14-10 and Biscoe 38-18 in the closing game of the season.

They showed outstanding ability all through the season, and Pinehurst High is really proud of them.

The team will feel a great loss next year, as Ted Veno, Eddie Ray, Gene McKenzie, Frank White, and Marshall Ballard are graduating.

Alumni

As the seniors of '52 look forward with happy anticipation to their graduating, they also begin to reminisce and to wonder how the graduates of other years have fared. They do a little investigating and here is what they learn about last year's graduates:

1. At the Charlotte Memorial Hospital, where she is a student nurse, Betty Lee McKenzie is still studying hard. We hear that she is getting her cap this month.

2. Sherrill Cole answered the call of duty and is now a member of the U. S. Navy. He was at home recently on leave.

3. Jo Ann Davis and Canara Garner are employees of the Carolina Bank. They say they

Beta Club Activities

During the past year five new members were added to the Beta Club. These were students whose grades in their freshman and sophomore years were never lower than "B" and whose character and school attitude were approved by the faculty. These new members were Pat Chriscoe, Pauline Clapp, Marcia Black, Clara Sheffield, and Fred Garrison.

On March 21, seven members of the Beta Club attended the State Beta Club convention in Raleigh, in this way learning more of the work of other North Carolina Beta Clubs. Fifteen hundred Beta members were at this convention.

On one occasion, the Beta members sponsored a chapel program and presented to the school the standards and work of the club. At this meeting the new members were given the pledge of membership.

At Christmas, the Beta members wrapped gifts for the patients at Moore County Hospital. These gifts were purchased by the Moore County Red Cross unit with funds contributed by the Junior Red Cross.

During the year the Beta Club has sponsored the school paper, "The Sandspur"; and as their final work of the year, they are presenting this sixteen-page yearbook to each student in school.

A Dip Into The Future

In this Atomic Age it was difficult for me to catch the members of the senior class of '52 for interviews. However, after a quick flight in my jet plane, I located each one; and, to my delight, found each one happily situated and quite successful—very much in contrast to his teachers' predictions and prophecies!

Tom Darst, following the example of his father, now has his own professional basketball team—five sons!

After his debut in "Act Your Age," Gene McKenzie is now the most popular actor in Hollywood. His latest picture is "Moe the Shmoe".

Barbara Jean Cole, whose ambition was to be a designer, is with the Harry Brown Tennis Association, where she designs tennis balls. Her newest is one with a built-in light indicating forehand or backhand.

I found Betty Black McKenzie, who married Fred during her junior year, comfortably settled in the latest of modern homes.

Coy Frye is now professor of English at Columbia University. As a hobby, he owns a successful greenhouse.

After X-ray training at the Medical College of Virginia, Jeri Yarborough is now head of her own business, "The Inside View" in Richmond, Virginia.

Eddie Ray is now mayor of Carthage, where he and Hazel are happily residing.

Betty Boggs can now be seen starring with Gary Crosby on their new television program.

Marshall Ballard and Frank White now own the largest shrimp boat industry in Miami, Florida, where they went just after graduation.

Shirley McKenzie, with her brilliant mind, is now J. Edgar Hoover's top secret agent for the F. B. I.

Ted Veno is really going up in the world. He is an elevator operator in the Empire State Building.

Linda Whitesell has succeeded in being the first woman paratrooper. She is now in command at Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Jerry Cole, after successfully establishing a chain of service stations, can be found playing golf at his fashionable home in Cole's Grove.

Polly Bosworth, after completing a beauty course at the Carolina Beauty School in Raleigh, owns her own shop here in Pinehurst.

Boys' Basketball

The Pinehurst boys' basketball team, with a combination of hard fighting and accurate shooting, came through the season with 8 games won and 12 lost. The boys racked up a total of 897 points against their opponents' 958, averaging 44.9 points per game.

Among the season's high scorers were Tom Darst, 256; Red Wathen, 176; Joe Williamson, 160; Larry Hartsell, 122; Ted Veno, 95; Jerry Cole, 44; Frank White, 33; Charles Garrison, 4; Randolph Black, 3; and Lloyd Oldham, 2. Recognition should also be given to the promising freshmen and sophomores, Fred Whitesell, Percy Slade, Jimmy McCaskill, and J. D. Hunt.

A blow to the team will be the loss of seniors Ted Veno, Tom Darst, Jerry Cole, and Frank White.

There were 162,8000 more persons injured in U. S. motor vehicle accidents last year than in 1950.

"Our Past"

As we approach the end of our high school career, it is only natural that we, the seniors of 1952, glance back over the past four years and recall the happenings that seemed important to us.

Our freshman year, with Miss Epps as our homeroom teacher, was different from other years and seemed very complicated. The system of changing classes kept us running! During this year practically everyone went out for athletics, many of our classmates aiding the teams to victory in both basketball and football. Almost the entire class joined the glee club and helped win the Picquet Cup in three successive contests.

In the tenth grade, Mr. Wall struggled along with us. He was the first man to teach us and he was very strict. He told us many stories about himself and the alligators. We knew these very well by the end of the year. One day when he was absent from the room, some of the boys tried knife throwing at the health charts. Since these charts were so expensive, as they learned when they began to pay for them, they decided to start practicing on other material.

Leaving behind the erasures, compasses, and other tenth grade worries, we entered our junior year with Mrs. McCaskill as our counselor. The high lights of this year were membership in the Beta Club, an honor shared by six of our class; our successful Halloween Carnival on the football field; and, last but not least, our three-day trip to Washington in the new activity bus.

This year, the best one ever, was under the guidance of Mrs. Edson. We, the "dignified seniors," shall always remember our delightful parties and Mrs. Edson's favorite saying, "Don't monkey with the typewriters."

We gave our senior play, "Act Your Age," at the Carolina Theatre. It was agreed that the title suited our class very well. We owe our success in this undertaking to Miss Morris, whose patience and hard work inspired us to do our best.

Our Charleston trip was a pleasant educational experience. None of us had been to Charleston before. To us Charleston is truly a charming city, combining as it does, so much quaintness of old times with the modern features of today. We had fun on our trip and no one grew tired or bored. Favorite expressions heard on all sides were "Look to the Left-Now to the Right," "Eighteen more miles to Laurinburg," and "This is truly a Select City." Several of the seniors loved the Cypress Gardens, and wanted to stay there; they almost did!

We realize now that these four high school years were probably our happiest days, and we wish to thank the teachers and friends who helped to make them so. We hope the lower grades realize what a wonderful, modern school they have now and we trust that they will try to keep it as attractive as it is. Perhaps before too long they will have an improved high school building, too.

As we leave, we hope that our going will bring a little touch of sadness to those we leave behind; and we trust that they will remember us with the sincere affection we feel for them.

It has been said of the world's history hitherto that might makes right. It is for us and for our time to reverse the maxim and to say that right makes might.

—Abraham Lincoln

enjoy the work there very much.

4. Nicky Hunt is in Chicago taking a course in radio operation.
5. At home now, but heading for Florida soon where she will join C. L., is Laverne Moon Worsham. You can bet she will soon have a sun tan.
6. Eastwood Trading Company must have a magnetic attraction for Melvin Clapp. He's still chief clerk there.
7. Holiday's Coffee Shop in Southern Pines and the Aberdeen Grill in Aberdeen have new waitresses. They are Verlon Ritter and Pearl Smith. They like their work and no wonder—plenty to eat!
8. Jimmy Dupree is still employed at the A & P and is saving his pennies. He is engaged now and is planning to be married soon.
9. Mary Ellen Thompson can be found at her home in Jackson Springs, where she is taking care of Curtis and their little son James. She is the former Mary Ellen McKenzie.
10. Allen Watson is a student at State College. From all the reports we can gather, he is doing good work.
11. Carolyn Nelson is at home now but plans to enter St. Mary's at the beginning of the next term.
12. Freddie McKenzie is working at the Field's Plumbing Shop. He and Betty are getting along fine in their new home.
13. At W. C., where she is doing excellent work, is Margie Garner. She is working on the college newspaper there, and judging from the work she did on "The Sandspur" here at P. H. S., we know she is doing an excellent job for W. C.
14. Dicky Kelly is at home with his parents now. His plans for the future depend somewhat on Uncle Sam's plans for him.
15. Ruth Weeber is employed in an office at Fort Myers, Va., where her father is stationed.
